

PSY4080 : Research Seminar A: Dissertation Hypotheses, Methods, and Design

This course helps students begin their dissertation proposal. Instruction will focus on the development of specific and appropriate research questions, how to choose a research method to best address the research questions, and guidance on how to relate research design to data analysis.

Credits 1