

PSY60380 : Advanced Research Methods

This course covers the quantitative need for statistical, internal, and external validity, as well as a deepening understanding of quantitative research methods and how to select the appropriate statistic for different research questions. A more advanced use of SPSS for data analysis is included. Also, consideration of mixed-methods studies is reviewed.

Credits 3