

HUM100 : Art and Society

An exploration of the relationship of art, music, and drama to cultural issues in contemporary American society. Students will explore the rise of popular culture in the United States and the art forms that developed as a result of technological, economic, and social changes in American life.

Credits 3