BUS408 : Knowledge Management

Exploration of the principles for turning basic information into actionable knowledge. Students will study knowledge-based systems and contemporary knowledge-management approaches in order to understand how data-driven decision making happens within the organization.

Credits 3