

BUS419 : Business and Professional Speaking

An exploration of the basic principles of speech and communication more broadly in business and professional settings. The course emphasizes the construction and delivery of various types of spoken presentations and the application of interpersonal skills to business, organizational, and other professional settings.

Credits 3