

BUS499 : Business Administration Capstone II

A culminating project, completed individually or in teams, where students synthesize what they have learned in the program, and how transpersonal psychology can be applied and examine a real-world problem in business. In part II students will produce a complete research paper and give an oral presentation to the other students in the course.

Credits 3